

Montana Guided Hunts

Elk & Sheep Hunts

Elk and Sheep hunts are by special permit only in Montana's famed Missouri River Breaks. These permits are very difficult to draw but "The Breaks" have the potential to produce some exceptional Elk and Sheep. Give us a call if you're interested in applying for Elk or Sheep tags in this region.

Mule Deer Hunts

Mule deer hunts are conducted in units 621 and 622 which includes the Missouri River Breaks National Monument and well as the Cow Creek and Antelope Creek Wilderness areas. These areas provide some of the best Mule Deer hunting Montana has to offer. The deer genetics are very good with 160" to 180" bucks being taken every year. Most hunters will have the opportunity to harvest bucks in the 130" to 140" class. Deer licenses are guaranteed if you purchase the outfitter sponsored Deer combination license.

Antelope Hunts

Antelope hunts also take place in the Missouri River Breaks. While this area doesn't typically hold record book bucks, you will have the opportunity to see plenty of animals in the 14 to 16" class. Hunts are conducted in unit 620 by special permit. Success rates for rifle hunts are near 100% but the rifle tag is more difficult to draw than the archery tag. Success rates on Archery hunts are quite good and the draw odds are near 100%.
